

THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN

BOTH HANDS UP FOR MR. BLAINE.

A CHAT WITH PROFESSOR AND MRS. STOWE.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

HARTFORD, July 20.—A reporter of The Tribune called on Professor and Mrs. Stowe at their summer home here and asked their opinions on the pending Presidential campaign. Both are in good health, with unimpaired mental vigor. They were manifestly pleased to be able to speak words in aid of the Republican cause.

"I have known Mr. Blaine personally thirty years," said the Professor, "and have entire confidence in his personal and political honesty." At which Mrs. Stowe remarked: "I believe the stories they tell against him are slanderous."

This lady was the stronger; inasmuch as an able avowed personal and trusted friend has assured them that he had carefully studied all the evidence to sustain the accusations against Mr. Blaine and found it unworthy of credit. Mrs. Stowe was told that her good opinion of Mr. Blaine would be useful by the newspaper press, replied:

"I am glad. I hold up both hands for Mr. Blaine, and advocate him with my whole heart."

Professor Stowe socks in the highest terms of Mr. Blaine's book as a master work which, if written by an unknown man, would alone be sufficient to give him high reputation. He also warmly praised Mr. Blaine's letter of acceptance, taking his stand with Mrs. Stowe that, inasmuch as a large majority of both parties favor such restriction, it would be necessary for those who disagreed on this point to choose another platform than that of the American party.

On this subject, Mrs. Stowe said: "The platform of the Southern States to prevent colored voters from casting their right ballot is the best. Mr. Blaine would give every man a sound administration, and one of which every American would have reason to be proud."

Professor Stowe's family will spend the summer in the country, and will be here in time for the election.

They have only kind words for Southern hospitality, but say that no one knows the condition of southern politics can truthfully deny that the entrenchment of the negro has been nullified, either by inadvisability before election or by fraudulent returns.

A RATICIFICATION MEETING IN VIRGINIA.

SPECHES BY SENATOR MARSH, H. C. PARSONS, FRANK S. BLAINE AND OTHERS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

HARRISONBURG, Va., July 21.—The Republicans of this county held a ratification meeting here to-day. The speakers were held in the Court House yard, where a stand had been erected. The Postmaster of this place, as chairman of this County Committee, introduced as permanent chairman Dr. J. W. Webb, of Cross Keys. He introduced the Hon. William Malone, who among other things said that the pending campaign was fraught with great interest for the people of all classes, rich, poor and middle classes. The different planks of the national platform were broad and strong enough to carry all upon it. The convention that nominated James G. Blaine and John A. Logan was composed of the representative men of this nation, not only the capitalist but the mechanic, the artisan, the laborer. He then showed the natural demands of the voters of this state for a protective tariff, that the levels of the state were overthrown with ease and from only avoiding the main bulk of the capitalist's gold and the labor of the honest working man's pick. He pictured in glowing language the future of the state under Republican rule, and referred to when which might cause under a wise administration, administration, and not a mere paper, but impossible. He had a tribute to Blaine and Logan, and called upon every Republican to do his duty for America.

He then turned to Harrison and Wallace, and spoke of the importance of the national platform.

Mr. Malone, of Harrison County, advised all laboring men to study well the platforms of both of the national parties. The party represented by Blaine and Logan, he said, was that of protection, and not of giving general generality, such as composed the Democratic national platform. He had been a laboring man himself. He knew something of the labor of the working man, how hard it was to earn a living, in calling upon the American people to allow all classes a protection for American industry.

Attorney General Frank S. Blaile, Congressman John H. Gilmer, and Senator Jasen, both in short and pertinent speeches represented their views of the canvass and predicted the success of Blaine and Logan.

INDEPENDENTS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

THEIR HEARTY SUPPORT OF BLAINE.—EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The address sent by the Independent Republicans of Pennsylvania to the Independents of New York and Massachusetts a few days ago giving reasons why in the judgment of the Pennsylvania Independents Blaine and Logan should be elected, as follows:—In the signature of Chairman McKee and the members of the Republican Independent State Committee and other independent organizations without any condition or expression of opinion. The letters of the Independents to Chairman McKee in reply to them asking the privilege of using their names, contain many characteristic expressions of opinion, showing their enthusiasm for Blaine. As an evidence of their feeling toward the ticket, the following extracts are given. The letters as will be seen, come from each section of the State. Of the number, Messrs. F. E. Kirk of Schuylkill, and Thomas W. Phillips, of Luzerne, are the only ones who, while they have cooperated with the Independents and while some of them were delegates to the independent convention, and ordered the use of its writings to the committee. Several of them have already attained wide circulation in the newspapers.

General James Barnett and Congressman Amos Townsend gave favorable accounts of the method in Ohio, Mr. Townsend said: "We are on the steam out now, and will soon be down and run the campaign train through for all others are in it. You will hear a good report from us in October. We expect to see Blaine and Logan elected by a handsome majority of the electoral college."

Another earlier yesterday was C. E. Bolton-Jones; and Marion Baldwin, Editor of "The American," of Philadelphia, and the Hon. George Collier, Henry S. Shantz of Chicago; General George W. Carter, J. H. Warwick of Brooklyn, General Crook of Brooklyn, and Major F. M. Clarke of Iowa.

IRISH NATIONAL REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

The following correspondence was yesterday made public by the Secretary of the Irish National Republican League.

NEW YORK, July 15, 1884.

Hon. James G. Blaine, Albany, N. Y., and Hon. Jos. A. Lovins, Washington, D. C.

The Executive Committee of the Irish National Republican League and other representatives of the League met in New York on Friday evening, and voted to call a convention of Irish-American citizens for the purpose of uniting the nomination of Blaine and Logan. Delegates were received from every State in the Union giving their support to the support of the League.

J. N. McNeer, of Allegheny County; "Go ahead, it is all O. K. To thoroughly satisfied with Blaine and Logan." Alexander C. Crawford, Allegheny County: "The better man there is, and we are on the steam out now, and will soon be down and run the campaign train through for all others are in it. You will hear a good report from us in October. We expect to see Blaine and Logan elected by a handsome majority of the electoral college."

Another earlier yesterday was C. E. Bolton-Jones; and Marion Baldwin, Editor of "The American," of Philadelphia, and the Hon. George Collier, Henry S. Shantz of Chicago; General George W. Carter, J. H. Warwick of Brooklyn, General Crook of Brooklyn, and Major F. M. Clarke of Iowa.

ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANK S. BLAINE, CONGRESSMAN JOHN H. GILMER, AND SENATOR JASEN, IN SHORT AND PERTINENT SPEECHES REPRESENTED THEIR VIEWS OF THE CANVASS AND PREDICTED THE SUCCESS OF BLAINE AND LOGAN.

INDEPENDENTS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

THEIR HEARTY SUPPORT OF BLAINE.—EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The address sent by the Independents of Pennsylvania to the Independents of New York and Massachusetts a few days ago giving reasons why in the judgment of the Pennsylvania Independents Blaine and Logan should be elected, as follows:—In the signature of Chairman McKee and the members of the Republican Independent State Committee and other independent organizations without any condition or expression of opinion. The letters of the Independents to Chairman McKee in reply to them asking the privilege of using their names, contain many characteristic expressions of opinion, showing their enthusiasm for Blaine. As an evidence of their feeling toward the ticket, the following extracts are given. The letters as will be seen, come from each section of the State. Of the number, Messrs. F. E. Kirk of Schuylkill, and Thomas W. Phillips, of Luzerne, are the only ones who, while they have cooperated with the Independents and while some of them were delegates to the independent convention, and ordered the use of its writings to the committee. Several of them have already attained wide circulation in the newspapers.

J. N. McNeer, of Allegheny County: "Go ahead, it is all O. K. To thoroughly satisfied with Blaine and Logan." Alexander C. Crawford, Allegheny County: "The better man there is, and we are on the steam out now, and will soon be down and run the campaign train through for all others are in it. You will hear a good report from us in October. We expect to see Blaine and Logan elected by a handsome majority of the electoral college."

Another earlier yesterday was C. E. Bolton-Jones; and Marion Baldwin, Editor of "The American," of Philadelphia, and the Hon. George Collier, Henry S. Shantz of Chicago; General George W. Carter, J. H. Warwick of Brooklyn, General Crook of Brooklyn, and Major F. M. Clarke of Iowa.

IRISH NATIONAL REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

The following correspondence was yesterday made public by the Secretary of the Irish National Republican League.

NEW YORK, July 15, 1884.

Hon. James G. Blaine, Albany, N. Y., and Hon. Jos. A. Lovins, Washington, D. C.

The Executive Committee of the Irish National Republican League and other representatives of the League met in New York on Friday evening, and voted to call a convention of Irish-American citizens for the purpose of uniting the nomination of Blaine and Logan. Delegates were received from every State in the Union giving their support to the support of the League.

J. N. McNeer, of Allegheny County: "Go ahead, it is all O. K. To thoroughly satisfied with Blaine and Logan." Alexander C. Crawford, Allegheny County: "The better man there is, and we are on the steam out now, and will soon be down and run the campaign train through for all others are in it. You will hear a good report from us in October. We expect to see Blaine and Logan elected by a handsome majority of the electoral college."

Another earlier yesterday was C. E. Bolton-Jones; and Marion Baldwin, Editor of "The American," of Philadelphia, and the Hon. George Collier, Henry S. Shantz of Chicago; General George W. Carter, J. H. Warwick of Brooklyn, General Crook of Brooklyn, and Major F. M. Clarke of Iowa.

ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANK S. BLAINE, CONGRESSMAN JOHN H. GILMER, AND SENATOR JASEN, IN SHORT AND PERTINENT SPEECHES REPRESENTED THEIR VIEWS OF THE CANVASS AND PREDICTED THE SUCCESS OF BLAINE AND LOGAN.

INDEPENDENTS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

THEIR HEARTY SUPPORT OF BLAINE.—EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The address sent by the Independents of Pennsylvania to the Independents of New York and Massachusetts a few days ago giving reasons why in the judgment of the Pennsylvania Independents Blaine and Logan should be elected, as follows:—In the signature of Chairman McKee and the members of the Republican Independent State Committee and other independent organizations without any condition or expression of opinion. The letters of the Independents to Chairman McKee in reply to them asking the privilege of using their names, contain many characteristic expressions of opinion, showing their enthusiasm for Blaine. As an evidence of their feeling toward the ticket, the following extracts are given. The letters as will be seen, come from each section of the State. Of the number, Messrs. F. E. Kirk of Schuylkill, and Thomas W. Phillips, of Luzerne, are the only ones who, while they have cooperated with the Independents and while some of them were delegates to the independent convention, and ordered the use of its writings to the committee. Several of them have already attained wide circulation in the newspapers.

J. N. McNeer, of Allegheny County: "Go ahead, it is all O. K. To thoroughly satisfied with Blaine and Logan." Alexander C. Crawford, Allegheny County: "The better man there is, and we are on the steam out now, and will soon be down and run the campaign train through for all others are in it. You will hear a good report from us in October. We expect to see Blaine and Logan elected by a handsome majority of the electoral college."

Another earlier yesterday was C. E. Bolton-Jones; and Marion Baldwin, Editor of "The American," of Philadelphia, and the Hon. George Collier, Henry S. Shantz of Chicago; General George W. Carter, J. H. Warwick of Brooklyn, General Crook of Brooklyn, and Major F. M. Clarke of Iowa.

IRISH NATIONAL REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

The following correspondence was yesterday made public by the Secretary of the Irish National Republican League.

NEW YORK, July 15, 1884.

Hon. James G. Blaine, Albany, N. Y., and Hon. Jos. A. Lovins, Washington, D. C.

The Executive Committee of the Irish National Republican League and other representatives of the League met in New York on Friday evening, and voted to call a convention of Irish-American citizens for the purpose of uniting the nomination of Blaine and Logan. Delegates were received from every State in the Union giving their support to the support of the League.

J. N. McNeer, of Allegheny County: "Go ahead, it is all O. K. To thoroughly satisfied with Blaine and Logan." Alexander C. Crawford, Allegheny County: "The better man there is, and we are on the steam out now, and will soon be down and run the campaign train through for all others are in it. You will hear a good report from us in October. We expect to see Blaine and Logan elected by a handsome majority of the electoral college."

Another earlier yesterday was C. E. Bolton-Jones; and Marion Baldwin, Editor of "The American," of Philadelphia, and the Hon. George Collier, Henry S. Shantz of Chicago; General George W. Carter, J. H. Warwick of Brooklyn, General Crook of Brooklyn, and Major F. M. Clarke of Iowa.

ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANK S. BLAINE, CONGRESSMAN JOHN H. GILMER, AND SENATOR JASEN, IN SHORT AND PERTINENT SPEECHES REPRESENTED THEIR VIEWS OF THE CANVASS AND PREDICTED THE SUCCESS OF BLAINE AND LOGAN.

INDEPENDENTS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

THEIR HEARTY SUPPORT OF BLAINE.—EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The address sent by the Independents of Pennsylvania to the Independents of New York and Massachusetts a few days ago giving reasons why in the judgment of the Pennsylvania Independents Blaine and Logan should be elected, as follows:—In the signature of Chairman McKee and the members of the Republican Independent State Committee and other independent organizations without any condition or expression of opinion. The letters of the Independents to Chairman McKee in reply to them asking the privilege of using their names, contain many characteristic expressions of opinion, showing their enthusiasm for Blaine. As an evidence of their feeling toward the ticket, the following extracts are given. The letters as will be seen, come from each section of the State. Of the number, Messrs. F. E. Kirk of Schuylkill, and Thomas W. Phillips, of Luzerne, are the only ones who, while they have cooperated with the Independents and while some of them were delegates to the independent convention, and ordered the use of its writings to the committee. Several of them have already attained wide circulation in the newspapers.

J. N. McNeer, of Allegheny County: "Go ahead, it is all O. K. To thoroughly satisfied with Blaine and Logan." Alexander C. Crawford, Allegheny County: "The better man there is, and we are on the steam out now, and will soon be down and run the campaign train through for all others are in it. You will hear a good report from us in October. We expect to see Blaine and Logan elected by a handsome majority of the electoral college."

Another earlier yesterday was C. E. Bolton-Jones; and Marion Baldwin, Editor of "The American," of Philadelphia, and the Hon. George Collier, Henry S. Shantz of Chicago; General George W. Carter, J. H. Warwick of Brooklyn, General Crook of Brooklyn, and Major F. M. Clarke of Iowa.

IRISH NATIONAL REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

The following correspondence was yesterday made public by the Secretary of the Irish National Republican League.

NEW YORK, July 15, 1884.

Hon. James G. Blaine, Albany, N. Y., and Hon. Jos. A. Lovins, Washington, D. C.

The Executive Committee of the Irish National Republican League and other representatives of the League met in New York on Friday evening, and voted to call a convention of Irish-American citizens for the purpose of uniting the nomination of Blaine and Logan. Delegates were received from every State in the Union giving their support to the support of the League.

J. N. McNeer, of Allegheny County: "Go ahead, it is all O. K. To thoroughly satisfied with Blaine and Logan." Alexander C. Crawford, Allegheny County: "The better man there is, and we are on the steam out now, and will soon be down and run the campaign train through for all others are in it. You will hear a good report from us in October. We expect to see Blaine and Logan elected by a handsome majority of the electoral college."

Another earlier yesterday was C. E. Bolton-Jones; and Marion Baldwin, Editor of "The American," of Philadelphia, and the Hon. George Collier, Henry S. Shantz of Chicago; General George W. Carter, J. H. Warwick of Brooklyn, General Crook of Brooklyn, and Major F. M. Clarke of Iowa.

ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANK S. BLAINE, CONGRESSMAN JOHN H. GILMER, AND SENATOR JASEN, IN SHORT AND PERTINENT SPEECHES REPRESENTED THEIR VIEWS OF THE CANVASS AND PREDICTED THE SUCCESS OF BLAINE AND LOGAN.

INDEPENDENTS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

THEIR HEARTY SUPPORT OF BLAINE.—EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The address sent by the Independents of Pennsylvania to the Independents of New York and Massachusetts a few days ago giving reasons why in the judgment of the Pennsylvania Independents Blaine and Logan should be elected, as follows:—In the signature of Chairman McKee and the members of the Republican Independent State Committee and other independent organizations without any condition or expression of opinion. The letters of the Independents to Chairman McKee in reply to them asking the privilege of using their names, contain many characteristic expressions of opinion, showing their enthusiasm for Blaine. As an evidence of their feeling toward the ticket, the following extracts are given. The letters as will be seen, come from each section of the State. Of the number, Messrs. F. E. Kirk of Schuylkill, and Thomas W. Phillips, of Luzerne, are the only ones who, while they have cooperated with the Independents and while some of them were delegates to the independent convention, and ordered the use of its writings to the committee. Several of them have already attained wide circulation in the newspapers.

J. N. McNeer, of Allegheny County: "Go ahead, it is all O. K. To thoroughly satisfied with Blaine and Logan." Alexander C. Crawford, Allegheny County: "The better man there is, and we are on the steam out now, and will soon be down and run the campaign train through for all others are in it. You will hear a good report from us in October. We expect to see Blaine and Logan elected by a handsome majority of the electoral college."

Another earlier yesterday was C. E. Bolton-Jones; and Marion Baldwin, Editor of "The American," of Philadelphia, and the Hon. George Collier, Henry S. Shantz of Chicago; General George W. Carter, J. H. Warwick of Brooklyn, General Crook of Brooklyn, and Major F. M. Clarke of Iowa.

ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANK S. BLAINE, CONGRESSMAN JOHN H. GILMER, AND SENATOR JASEN, IN SHORT AND PERTINENT SPEECHES REPRESENTED THEIR VIEWS OF THE CANVASS AND PREDICTED THE SUCCESS OF BLAINE AND LOGAN.

INDEPENDENTS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

THEIR HEARTY SUPPORT OF BLAINE.—EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The address sent by the Independents of Pennsylvania to the Independents of New York and Massachusetts a few days ago giving reasons why in the judgment of the Pennsylvania Independents Blaine and Logan should be elected, as follows:—In the signature of Chairman McKee and the members of the Republican Independent State Committee and other independent organizations without any condition or expression of opinion. The letters of the Independents to Chairman McKee in reply to them asking the privilege of using their names, contain many characteristic expressions of opinion, showing their enthusiasm for Blaine. As an evidence of their feeling toward the ticket, the following extracts are given. The letters as will be seen, come from each section of the State. Of the number, Messrs. F. E. Kirk of Schuylkill, and Thomas W. Phillips, of Luzerne, are the only ones who, while they have cooperated with the Independents and while some of them were delegates to the independent convention, and ordered the use